Human-readable explanation

The model produced risk category HIGH, trust score 47.5, and confidence score 1.0. The principal model factors increasing modeled risk were: Device relationship not established, New payment corridor. The principal model factors reducing modeled risk were: Established customer relationship, Established counterparty relationship, Complete metadata. This explanation describes model evidence only and does not constitute an institutional transaction decision.

5. Policy interpretation

Advisory recommendation: STEP_UP_AUTHENTICATION
Policy is reported separately from AI inference.

6. Reconstructable evidence chain

Feature & Context → AI Trust → Explainability → Policy → Audit
